GAME PLAN

Decide on a Fellowship

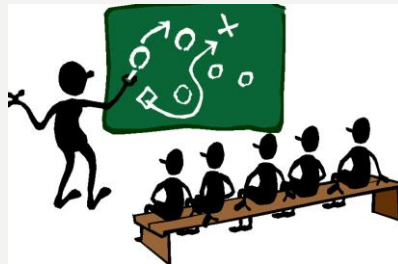

The Application Process

Interviews

The Match

DECIDING ON A FELLOWSHIP

Lots to Consider:

- Your interests and skills
- Your career goals – present and future
- Patient population
- Lifestyle

Experience and Exposure

- Make sure you have enough experience in the field(s) of interest
- Try and vary the type of experiences
  - Away rotations
  - Different settings (community vs. academic, outpatient vs. inpatient care in subspecialty)
  - Attending conferences (PAS, AAP National conferences)

Ask Around

- Talk to Attendings and colleagues within the field of interest
- Gain Insight on their experiences and any advice they may have to offer

PEDIATRIC FELLOWSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

- Academic General Pediatrics
- Adolescent Medicine
- Child Abuse
- Developmental-Behavioral
- Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine
- Cardiology
- Critical Care
- Emergency Medicine

- Dates Vary and Change!
  - Visit: <http://www.nrmp.org> [MATCH CALENDARS]

PERSONAL STATEMENT

- Start early, write multiple drafts AND show multiple people (not just your family/friends)
- Should address why you are interested in this field and what you can contribute
- What you anticipate your career goals to be
- Try and have this ready EARLY

Some letter writers ask for this and your CV prior to writing your letter

RECOMMENDATION LETTERS: ASK EARLY!

- A minimum of 3 letters are required, can upload as many as 4 letters
- One letter must be from your program director
- Ideally, two or more letters from the people within the subspecialty you are applying to
  - Or one can be from an attending you've worked with extensively well/knows you well and can write you a strong letter
  - Quality>Quantity
- Review individual program requirements
- Don't be afraid to remind letter writers nicely 😊
- Letters will be submitted via EFDO (ERAS fellowship documents office)
  - Your writer will need the following information:
    - AAMC ID
    - Applicant Name
    - Letter ID assigned (generated once you specify a letter writer on your ERAS application)

DECIDING WHERE TO APPLY

- Number of programs to apply to depends on subspecialty
  - The more competitive the specialty, the more you should apply to
  - Visa considerations
  - Couples match
- Location
- Knowing your career goals
  - Academic vs. Clinical
- A good variety of competitiveness

COUPLES MATCH

- Applicants MUST be participating in the same Match in order to couple
- A match is established only if both partners match at a pair of ranked program
- Couples have the option to rank a “No Match” code
- If one partner wants to withdraw from the Match, BOTH partners first must uncouple and individuals can rank individually

INTERVIEWS: BE PATIENT

- If you think it was exhausting interviewing for residency...
- Some people get them early, some late; fellowships have their own timelines
- Know Yourself
  - What are you looking for in a program
  - What are your career goals
- Purpose for the fellowship program is to determine good fit ... but that goes for you too!!

INTERVIEW DAY: BE YOURSELF

- Know your application!
  - From College jobs to your current QI projects
- Ask Questions (and have more questions ready to go)
- Do your research about the hospital, program, and faculty!!!
- Be ready for lots and lots of interviews in one day (4-10 interviewers)
- Get to know the Fellows

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS: SAMPLE

QUESTIONS ASKED

- Tell me about yourself
- Why this subspecialty?
- Why this hospital?
- Tell me about your experiences in research – what are you currently working on?
- What will you bring to this program?

QUESTIONS TO ASK

- What are strengths/weaknesses of the program?
- What are some changes you expect in the near future?
- Ask Fellows
  - Typical Census
  - Is call in-house or at home? (for applicable specialties)
  - Faculty Support
  - Funding for conferences
  - Board Preparation

GETTING READY FOR MATCH: RANK IT!

- Don't forget to register on the NRMP website for R3
  - Consider entering your NRMP number on ERAS (will make it easier for fellowships to find/rank you)
- Thank You/ Follow Up Letters/ E-mails
  - Especially for programs of interest
- Rank Order List
  - Enter your Programs
  - Rank your programs
  - Certify your list
    - Your list must be certified to participate in match

ADDITIONAL TIPS

- Make a spreadsheet of all programs interviewed at
- Pros and cons list
- Note your costs
- Get contact info for all your fellows and faculty
